

Stuart Rosenberg

JEWISH MUSIC EDUCATOR

Musician, producer, writer, and radio personality Stuart Rosenberg offers a slate of engaging and deeply researched lectures and classes about Jewish music and the role of Jews throughout musical history.

radiogumbo@mac.com • (847) 971-9197 • stuartrosenbergmusic.com

CLASSES

Available in-person or as a Zoom seminar

Machers & Rockers

90-minute class (+ 2nd session available)

Rosenberg looks at the role Jews have played in the development of rock music as artists, songwriters, and behind the scenes as producers, managers, and record company execs. It's a story that changed the world- and it's a very Jewish tale.

Jews and Folk

90-minute class

The story of Jews and their role in the rise of folk music in the 20th century, and how a passion for social justice and a love of tradition brought forth a remarkable transformation of music in America.

ADDITIONAL OFFERINGS

If requested, these topics can be expanded into a full 90-minute class for Zoom or in-person

Comedy & the Borscht Belt • My Life in the Yiddish Theater • Jews & World Music

Stuart at Elvis's famous Sun Studio

Hal Blaine,
session drummer

Theodore Bikel,
actor and singer